Photograph Permission

Guidelines

- The material in all AISES/WOC publications is copyrighted and may be reprinted by permission only.
- In most cases, a fee will not be charged.
- All requests for use of these materials must be in writing. Permission will not be granted over the phone.
- All permissions are granted for one-time usage only.
- In rare instances, select imagery may not be licensed for reprint.
- Permission is for photo content only. Because of licensed artwork and AISES/WOC policy, no logos, artwork, or mastheads may be included in any third-party permission grants, including those given to authors.
- To request permission to reprint photographic content from AISES/WOC please contact the Senior Director of Marketing at AISES or the Editor of Winds of Change magazine.
- AISES/WOC do not provide hard copies of the requested reprint content. Electronic copies can be accessed at woc.aises.org.
- AISES/WOC do not allow any full text reproduction of any AISES/WOC content on any website other than the AISES website (aises.org) and the Winds of Change website (woc.aises.org).
- Credit material reprinted from AISES as follows: Used by permission from the American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES), © 20xx. If provided, photographer/author/source credit must also appear.
- Credit material reprinted from WOC magazine as follows: Reprinted by permission from the Winds of Change © 20xx by the American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES). If provided, photographer/author/source credit must also appear.
- Author byline may also be required and will be specified if it is.
- All materials in which AISES/WOC content is used will be made available to AISES/WOC for copyright compliance.
- Our standard response time is 10 to 14 business days.
