About AISES

Founded in 1977, AISES is a national nonprofit organization focused on substantially increasing the representation of Indigenous peoples of North America and the Pacific Islands in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) studies and careers. This robust nonprofit currently supports individual student and professional members across the U.S. and Canada in critically needed STEM disciplines. Through chartered college and university chapters, professional chapters, tribal chapters, and affiliated PK-12 schools, members benefit from diverse STEM-focused programming that supports careers and promotes student success and workforce development in multiple crucial areas.

Each year, AISES holds its National Conference in a different region of the country.

Another great conference! I enjoy meeting prospective students. Of additional value, our own students hang out at the booth and have the chance to meet other students and alumni. It is always great to see many new and old friends that stop by.
- University of Oklahoma

The conference was excellent. The venue for Indigenous students to be represented is phenomenal. I had not attended the conference since 1992, and to see this many natives occupying and thriving in the STEM fields is fantastic!
